Full Time for Sydney

Dear Resident,

On 24 March 2007, every NSW resident has the chance to make a difference to the future of the state. The biggest risk at this election is that nothing changes.

As the full time elected member for the New Electorate of Sydney I will have the opportunity of initiating and driving sustainable and progressive solutions to problems that just aren't going to go away unless we have a change from the current Moore/Labor Government. My vision for Sydney's future includes everyone and with your vote we can fix NSW.

Full-time for the New Seat of Sydney

I can and will represent the electorate full-time, with passion, energy and zeal. For too long Sydney's residents and small businesses have endured a part-time member in Clover Moore and I believe that Sydney deserves full-time representation in Parliament – it's that simple.

Recycled Water Network for Sydney

For 12 years Labor has failed to plan and act on NSW's water needs. A NSW Liberal Government will develop a new water network to guarantee Sydney's future environmental, industrial and drinking water supplies. Unlike Labor our plan is not based on an expensive and environmentally damaging desalination plant. A future Liberal Government will also provide $120 million over four years to save and recycle storm water.

Transport

Sydney is in an infrastructure crisis – a direct result of over a decade of Labor government neglect and local, part-time representation. Under a Liberal Government commuters can expect more express train services as well as desperately needed funds to upgrade rail infrastructure, maintenance, security and staffing.

Housing

Sydney has the dubious honour of being one of the least affordable cities in the world due to years of poor decision making by the Moore/Labor Government. Renters are facing higher rents and more limited choice. Homebuyers are finding it harder to save for a deposit. A future Liberal Government will cut land tax to boost the property market and take pressure off rents. Sydney deserves better and we deserve it now!

As the full-time elected Member for the New seat of Sydney, I can deliver:

FARE FREEZE on all public transport fares for four years and no fare increases thereafter unless strict performance criteria are met.

$400 REBATE for existing rainwater tanks to be connected for domestic/household use.

REBATE INCREASE for installing rainwater tanks that are connected to the toilet or washing machine

$500 REBATE for installing a solar hotwater system in a new residence

Full Time for Sydney

12 years of Labor neglect is long enough.

Despite paying the highest taxes in Australia and working hard to better themselves and their families, NSW is going backwards. The Government has failed to tackle the real issues concerning Sydney's residents and small businesses. The Cross City Tunnel, poor public transport, a water crisis and skills shortages are examples of a Government that has lost direction. Ms Moore has been unable to make any impact and the toll of performing dual roles is beginning to show.

The residents of Sydney deserve a full time, committed and energetic new Member for the Seat of Sydney.

Mental Health

One person in five is affected by mental illness each year. The NSW Liberals have highlighted mental health as a major priority by appointing a Minister for Mental Health and they have promised to spend an extra $396 million over four years. Sydney can expect to see proper funding made available for community-based mental health care not just crisis care only.

Police Presence on Sydney Streets

The seat of Sydney has been the biggest loser in the quest for adequate Police resources since 2003. Labor has slashed the number of officers in critical local commands. The NSW Liberals have promised an extra 1100 police for NSW and I will be fighting to ensure that the Sydney Electorate gets a better deal with the police resources it needs to ensure proper public safety.

I am a long term CBD resident and I understand the vibrant and ever changing environment of Sydney. I look forward to fighting on behalf of all residents to start repairing the damage done by Labor's neglect of the local hospitals, transport, roads and schools.

The only way to get NSW back in front is to change the Government by voting Liberal.

Kind Regards,

Edward Mandla

As the full-time elected Member for the New seat of Sydney, I will fight for:

BETTER CHILDCARE SERVICES that can meet demand and give parents and guardians real choice.

BETTER TRANSPORT PLANNING and infrastructure to meet Sydney's ever-changing needs.

BETTER MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES that are properly supported and adequately funded both in Sydney and greater NSW.

BETTER EDUCATION opportunities that address the skills shortages and the technological capabilities of Sydney.
